

Connellsville's Biggest and Best Newspaper. Sworn Average Daily Circulation Last Week, 6,690

VOL. 16, NO. 186.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 17, 1918.

EIGHT PAGES.

SIXTY AUSTRIAN DIVISIONS FAIL TO BREAK STUBBORN RESISTANCE OF ITALIANS

Situation Very Reassuring Says Semi-Official Statement Issued in Rome; Pressure Continues With Unabated Ferocity on the Part of the Enemy; Prussian Militarism Will Win, Declares Kaiser.

WOUNDED AMERICAN CAPTURES HIS CAPTOR

By Associated Press.

ITALIAN BATTLE GIGANTIC ONE.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—An official dispatch from Rome, dated 11:55 o'clock last night, says the battle on the Italian front will assume gigantic proportions, the Austrians attempting to break down the Italian defense by a great pincer movement. It adds that the battle will last several days before a decision is reached.

BRITISH BATTER AUSTRIANS.

LONDON, June 17.—Austrian troops which had as their objective on the British front, a range of hills, telegraphed Reuter's correspondent at the Italian headquarters, were much disconcerted before the British wire entanglements. The Austrians suffered heavily from the British machine gun fire and they were also caught by their own artillery which fired short. The Austro-Hungarian casualties, the correspondent says, are being reckoned in thousands while those on the British are very light.

ROME, June 17.—The situation on the Italian front seems very reassuring says a semi-official note issued tonight. It is added that the great battle which broke out Saturday has begun although having a strength of 60 divisions the enemy attacking forces had not succeeded in passing the Italian advancing area at any point.

Austrian pressure continues very strong along the entire front. The enemy is concentrating most powerful and fierce attacks astride the Brenta and across the Plave and it is still possible for the fighting line to flow backward or forward.

ROME, June 17.—Victor Ittorio Orlando, the Italian premier, in an interview, said that Italian troops by tenaciously resisting the Austro-Hungarian troops in their new offensive in Northern Italy and by repeated counter attacks were strongly holding the enemy. The struggle, he added, was most bitter on the eastern slopes of Monteello and to the west of Sandonao di Plave.

MILITARISM WILL WIN, SAYS WILLIAM.

AMSTERDAM, June 17.—Prussian militarism will bring victory to Germany, says Emperor William in a reply to a telegram of congratulation on the 30th anniversary of his accession from Chancellor von Hertling. The emperor declares that he leads "the most capable people on earth" and expresses the hope that the German people will have strength to bear their sufferings and privations.

DOESN'T REMAIN PRISONER LONG.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sunday, June 6.—The Germans captured an American soldier in their attack on Xivry today but he did not remain a prisoner very long. At the end of the village three Germans came upon a wounded American. He was placed under guard of a German private and started for the enemy lines. Reaching a point near the enemy fire entanglements the American suddenly drew a revolver and forced his surprised custodian to march back across No Man's Land into the American lines. After turning his prisoner over to fellow soldiers the wounded man fell unconscious from loss of blood.

RENCH IMPROVE THEIR POSITION OVER NIGHT.

PARIS, June 17.—The French improved their position north northwest of Hauterive, between the Oise and Aisne, in a local sation early today. One hundred prisoners and some machine guns were captured, says the official statement.

AUSTRIANS CROSSING PLATE ARE REPULSED.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY, Sunday, June 16.—Austrian troops which forced the Plave river have been driven back. The fighting along the river is most intense. One of the most brilliant of the Italian actions was the defense of the Mont Moschin salient protecting the important Brenta position. Here the Austrians suffered heavy losses. The prisoners are ragged and ill fed.

CIGARIN CABINET QUIT THE JOB

SOFIA, via Amsterdam, June 17.—The prime minister has tendered the resignation of the cabinet, and King Ferdinand has accepted it. The ministers are requested by the king to retain their portfolios until a new cabinet is formed.

BRITISH CARRY OUT RAID AT ARRAS.

LONDON, June 17.—A successful raid was carried out last night against the British, who took a few prisoners, it is announced officially.

THIRTY-FOUR MORE AMERICANS FALL

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The army casualty list today contained 34 names added as follows: Killed in action, 2; died of wounds, two; died of ropeplane accidents, one; died of disease, four; wounded severely, 24; undetermined degree, undetermined, one; missing in action, one.

EST FRENCH CROSS CONFERRED ON AMERICAN

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Award of the French cross of war to Private J. Guyton as the first American to be killed on German soil is announced by General Pershing.

MEARRESTS WILL FOLLOW O'LEARY'S

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The case of Jeremiah O'Leary, Irish-American leader under indictment in New York in a mountain cabin in Washington, Ore., will be followed by arrest of a number of other churchmen in the United States if charges of treason or espionage are proved.

CONNELLSVILLE'S CURB MARKET WILL BE OPENED JULY 2

Housewives Will Have Opportunity of Getting Produce First Hand.

M. E. CHURCH LOT THE SITE

Tuesday and Fridays Have Been Fixed as Market Days and Hours Will Be From 8 A. M. Until Products Are Disposed of; Interest Keen

Connellsville's curb market will be opened for business at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, July 2, at which time the housewives of the city will have an opportunity to buy freshly gathered market garden products at first hand, and the producers be given an opportunity to dispose of their wares without the necessity of canvassing the city for buyers.

The committee appointed at the get-together meeting of the farmers and the men of the city some months ago has worked out the details necessary to the establishment of the market and it will be in readiness at the hour and on the day named. It will be on the lot owned by the Methodist Episcopal church, fronting on Apple street, between the post office and the church and running back to Mountain alley. Entrance will be from the alley side only. A walk fifteen feet wide will divide the lot into two parts, the gardeners' wagons and trucks being parked on either side. Counters or tables will be provided along the walk upon which the produce will be displayed for inspection by purchasers. The space on either side of the central walk will accommodate 20 wagons each, or 40 in all.

Tuesdays and Fridays have been fixed as the market days and 8 o'clock the hour at which the market will open. Sales before that hour will not be permitted. A policeman will be on duty during market hours to see that order is maintained and the regulations of the market in general observed.

From the interest displayed by market gardeners and farmers in the plan there is no doubt of the success of the undertaking if the housewives of the city turn out on market days, so that the products can be disposed of quickly and the farmers be given opportunity to return to their farm work with as little loss of time as possible. Current market prices will rule.

The committee which has spent considerable time and effort in completing the details consists of F. W. Wright, chairman; E. T. Norton, William McCormick of Connellsville; Thos. H. Kern of Normalville, A. C. Oglevee of Dunbar township and Jesse Blair of Platwoods. Farm Agent Dougherty has frequently met with the committee and given information and advice that has been of great value.

$800 FOR RED CROSS

Elks Donate That Sum Out of Minstrel Booster Fund.

At a meeting of the Elks' minstrel booster committee Saturday night it was voted to turn over $800 to the Red Cross chapter of Connellsville out of the proceeds of the minstrel show and booster edition of The Courier in April.

The gathering of the committee, of which T. M. Doyle is the head, was called for the purpose of approving the setting aside of that sum for the Red Cross. Mr. Doyle presented Chairman T. J. Hooper with a check today.

ELOPERS ARRESTED

Indian Head Man and Another's Wife Caught Here.

Giovacchino Madolini and Mrs. Anna Chuckhart, both of Indian Head, were placed under arrest here this morning by Patrolman P. M. Rulli, on information of George Chuckhart, husband of the woman.

The police were called on the phone about 8 o'clock this morning, Chuckhart calling Patrolman Rulli that his wife had left with the Italian. Mrs. Chuckhart is the mother of two children.

REV. HOUSTON RESIGNS

Pastor of Covenanter Church Will Leave in the West.

Rev. S. B. Houston has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Covenanter church in Greenwood, to take effect the latter part of July. Rev. and Mrs. Houston will leave for the west to make their home with a son.

Rev. Houston was the first pastor of the Covenanter church. His successor has not been chosen.

Raiding Plane Chased Back Across Channel

LONDON, June 17.—A German plane crossed the Kent coast of England soon after noon today. It was chased back to sea by the British anti-aircraft guns.

AMERICANS REPULSE LOCAL ATTACKS

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Repulse of local enemy attacks in the Woerre and in the Chateau Thierry region was reported today in General Pershing's communiqué for last night.

Dowling Memorial Tomorrow.

Solemn requiem high mass for William Francis Dowling, who died of disease somewhere in France, will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception church, with Rev. Father John T. Burns, assisted by Rev. Father Henry DeVivo of St. Rita's Italian Catholic church, and Rev. Father J. P. Breitner of St. Alcysius Catholic church at Dunbar officiating.

Saving Stamp Drive.

Chairman J. Bueli Snyder of the Public Safety committee of Perry township, announced yesterday that June 27, 28 and 29 would be the days for the War Saving Stamp drive.

CAPTAIN R. S. MORTON IS LAID TO REST WITH THE HONORS OF WAR

Veterans of Civil and Spanish-American Wars Pay Last Tribute to Commander of Co. D.

Captain Robert S. Morton, a former commander of Company D, 116th Regt., was buried yesterday afternoon with honors of war, when a military funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock from the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Morton in South Pittsburg street, veterans of the Civil war and of the Spanish-American war turning out in a body and participating in the services.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many other sorrowing relatives of the young soldier from Connellsville and more distant points, attending. Rev. J. L. Proudfit, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and Rev. E. D. Burgess, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church, officiated, the services being very beautiful and impressive. Miss Elizabeth Mae Brown sang appropriate numbers. Following the services in the home veterans of the Civil war lined up on either side of the walk leading from the Morton home and at the casket, draped with a large American flag, was carried by the pallbearers.

The funeral was the largest held in Connellsville in many years, men prominent in all walks of life, and many

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

S. S. Clarke entertained a few of his friends, mostly employees at the First National bank, over the weekend at his cozy cottage at Ohiopyle. The party left here Saturday afternoon returning home last evening, all reporting a most enjoyable time. The guests of Mr. Clarke were Mrs. William Weaver of South Connellsville, and Mrs. Austin Wilson of Youngstown, O., chaperones; Miss Maude Weaver, Miss Leona Miller of Pittsburgh; Fred Frisbee, Paul Brickett, Merrill Lessig and Clifford Edmonds, the latter of Pittsburgh.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Guild of the Trinity Episcopal church will be held Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. J. W. Graves at Dunbar. Those who expect to attend are asked to leave on the 730 street car. A meeting of the vestry will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the new church house in East Fairview avenue. The choir will meet Friday night at 7:30 o'clock for practice.

The Knit and Nix unit of the Charleston Comforts branch of the Navy League will meet tonight at the home of Mrs. Edward Sweeney in Eighth street, Greenwood.

The regular meeting of the Ladies auxiliary to the order of Railroad Conductors will be held Wednesday afternoon in Odd Fellows' hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade H. Marietta, Mrs. F. C. Rose, Mrs. Caroline Marietta, Mrs. J. D. Percy and daughter, Miss Besse, Mr. and Mrs. David Wertheimer and daughter, Miss Mary, and Mrs. W. P. Sherman, were among the local persons who motored to Marlinton yesterday to hear the concert given by the Connellsville Military band on the grounds of the United States General hospital.

The pupils of Miss Mercedes Gladson and Miss Josephine Rhinchart will give a musical this evening at the Gladson home in South Eighth street, Greenwood.

Miss Grace Rankin will entertain the T. C. T. club Friday night at her home at Adelaide.

Children's Day exercises will be held Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church at Dawson.

The Women's Bible class of the First Baptist church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. H. Huzen in North Sixth street, West Side.

The weekly meeting of the Bustiness Women's Christian association will be held Thursday night in Odd Fellows' temple, South Pittsburg street. Thursday night, June 27, the association will give a strawberry and ice cream social. A part of the proceeds will be for Y. M. C. A. war work.

Mrs. Mattie Richter will entertain the Vanderbilts' Fairway club Wednesday at her home in Crawford avenue, East Side.

Athens Temple, No. 80, Pythian Sisters, will meet tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in Odd Fellows' hall. At the close of the business meeting a social session will be held. All members are urged to attend.

The Busy Twelve club was delightfully entertained Friday evening by Mrs. A. J. Pakser at her home in Sixth street, West Side. The evening was spent at fancy work and knitting. Dainty refreshments were served.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hoop of Homestead were guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoop of Eighth street, Greenwood, over Sunday.

Mrs. Joseph A. Cook of Belle Vernon is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Belo B. Smith in East Patterson Avenue.

The best place to shop after all, Brownell's Shoe Co.—Adv.

Rev. W. L. McEwan, who delivered the class sermon at the high school last night, motored here from Pittsburgh accompanied by Mrs. McEwan and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams. Mr. Williams was at one time a Ballimore & Ohio dispatcher.

Don't be a ready-made man when you can get a cracker-jack suit to your measure at the price of a hand-me-down. Dave Cohen, Tailor—Adv.

Miss Nora Shallenberger of Brownsville, investigator for the Mothers' Assistance Board of Fayette county, was in town Saturday on business.

Mrs. George W. Blair of Eighth street, West Side, is spending the day

ADANDY REASON FOR Saving The Wheat is POST TOASTIES (BEST CORN FLAKES)

Need no Sugar Milk goes further Bobby

In Pittsburgh Hospital. Mrs. Emma Fink of Francis avenue, was taken to the Mercy hospital, Pittsburgh, this morning to undergo an operation. She was accompanied by her husband and daughter, Miss Agnes Fink.

EIGHTY-EIGHT YOUNG MEN CALLED TO GO TO CAMP ON THE EVENING OF JUNE 26

Continued from Page One.
W. Va.
Striver Osler, Confluence.
Ray Kuntz, Dickerson Run.
Roy Coffman Miller, Indian Head.
Clayton Myers, White.
Albert Mangos, Connellsville, R. D.
James Morris Smiley, Dunbar.
Frederick Daniel Miller, Markleysburg.

William Hegner, Connellsville.
George Adam Petris, Champion.
Edgar Russell Ehl, Omopoly.
Clonguendo Nafro, Dunbar.
William A. Phil, Normalville.
Frank Glisan, Markleysburg.
Charles E. Martin, Dunbar.
Jessie R. Bungard, Normalville.

INTENDS TO GET SOME HUMS IF POSSIBLE

Swimming is a diversion of the boys in training in France, says Private Andrew Lucas of 163d Infantry, writing to his father, Michael L. Lucas of Leisering No. 3. "We go in every day after we are through drilling," he continues. "I am not in the trenches yet, but I hope to get there before long. I did not come here for nothing. I come to get some Hums. I hope to get a half dozen or so before they get me."

HOME FROM VISIT WITH RUSSELL IN CAMP

Mrs. Frank Lewis and baby of Greenwood, returned home last evening from a visit with friends at Morgantown.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Sisley of Jeanette, were the guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. William Trapp of Green street, and of their daughter, Mrs. Frank Gaal, yesterday.

See "The Unbeliever" at the Paramount theatre today and tomorrow.—Adv.-17-18.

Miss Maude Kirkland of Brownsville, returned home this morning after a visit with Mrs. Laura Clark of McCormick avenue.

Miss Edna Smith of Dawson, Miss Edna Cook, Miss Elizabeth Barter, Miss Elizabeth Kellenberger and Miss Gerrude Grimm were guests of Mrs. Charles Dotwiler of Pennsville, yesterday. They attended the Children's Day exercises at the Pennsville Baptist church.

Dow's Shoe Store is showing two new oxfords in brown and grey.—Adv.-17-18.

Miss Besse Smith of Pittsburgh, was the guest over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Shaw of Tenth street, West Side.

Rev. Father William McCashlin of Burgettstown, and Rev. Father J. J. Greancy of near Pittsburgh, were in town today. They assisted in officiating at the funeral of Rev. Father Michael Stanzel.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bute, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGil, and son Frank and daughter Elizabeth, all of Dawson; Leo Bute of Dra, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wagner of Connellsville, formed a party which motored to Frostburg, Md., Saturday, returning last evening by way of Bedford and Ligonier.

Mrs. A. D. Souson and daughter, Miss Louisa, are spending the day in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Barbara Heurich of Greenwood, has returned home from Pittsburgh, where she witnessed the graduation of her sister, Miss Florence Edna Hunker from the Allegheny General hospital.

SERVICE FLAG

Four Lectures Planned for Week-end at Champion by Missionary.

To Be Dedicated by Foundry and Steel Castings Company.

The employees of the Connellsville Foundry & Steel Castings company will dedicate a service flag with 26 stars tomorrow at 1 o'clock.

Senator W. E. Crow of Uniontown and John Duggan, Jr., will speak.

WILL TELL OF INDIA

At Four Lectures Planned for Week-end at Champion by Missionary.

Miss Ida C. Shoemaker, a missionary of the Church of the Brethren home on a furlough after seven years in the Far East, will deliver a series of lectures on her experiences at the County Line Brethren church at Champion on Saturday evening and Sunday next. Her appearance is being arranged by a committee headed by Rev. Irwin R. Fletcher, pastor.

The program for the week-end follows:

Saturday evening, 8 o'clock, "Every-day Life in India or Home Life of the Missionaries"; Sunday morning, 11 o'clock, "Our India Field and Opportunities"; Sunday afternoon, 3 o'clock, for women only, "The Women of India"; Sunday evening, 7:30, "The Open Door of Service."

CIVIL AT RUST HOME

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rust of the West Side, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, the first child in the family. Mrs. Rust was formerly Miss Lucy Randolph of Vanderbilts. The father, better known as "Happy," is a West Penn conductor.

WILL GO TO CAMP CARNEGIE

Isadore Horowitz and Karl D. Smith of Connellsville have been accepted for admission to Camp Carnegie to be conducted by the Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, beginning July 1.

Try our classified advertisements.

THE GRIM REAPER

ISRAEL HENRY.

Israel Henry, an uncle of Funeral Director J. L. Stader, is dead at his home in New Derry. Mr. and Mrs. Stader and daughter, Miss Angela, and son, Leo, will attend the funeral tomorrow morning.

DANIEL O'LAUGHLIN.

Daniel O'Laughlin, 21 years old, a well known resident of Leisering No. 1, died yesterday at the residence of his brother, Martin O'Laughlin in Water street. He had been in poor health for some time past. The body was removed by Funeral Director J. L.

Stader to the O'Laughlin home at Leisering, from where the funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Requiem high mass will be celebrated at 9 o'clock from St. Vincent de Paul's Catholic church at Leisering, with interment in St. Vincent de Paul's cemetery.

Always bears the Signature of News as been received at Indian Creek of the sudden death at Cleaveland, Ohio, of Mrs. John Bigam, a former resident of the Indian Creek valley.

Die Sudden.

Two homing pigeons sent to Marlinton yesterday with O. R. Herwick, member of the Connellsville military band, which played there for the soldiers, returned to the home of their owner, C. L. McGinnis at East Connellsville in less than an hour. They were released at 12:05 and alighted again at the McGinnis home just before 1 o'clock.

Mr. McGinnis plans to send some Pittsburg next Saturday.

Armstrong Appointed.

Charles L. Davidson of Uniontown county food administrator, has appointed George L. Armstrong of city, federal food administrator Connellsville and vicinity.

Connellsville's Greatest Store.

THE E. DUNN STORE

The HOME of QUALITY and SERVICE

CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

"Come and See"

To Prove That Wonder Sale Values

We told the public in plain unmistakable language that we expected to win the measure of success to which this store is entitled, on the strength of our values—in that "Wonder Sale" in June. The public now has the opportunity to put that statement to the test. Come and see.

The Season's Greatest Dress Sale

Over two hundred high grade Silk and Wash Dresses,悉数由我们向纽约制造商购买，以极低的价格出售。"Wonder Sale"在六月将要开始，我们将证明其成功。

$9.95, $15 and up to $35

Suits $19.95, $24.95 and $32.50

This will be a Red Letter Event for every woman who comes to take advantage of the sensational offer. Scores of different styles—all stunning—this season's newest. Women's, misses' and juniors' sizes. Suits formerly sold at $25.00 up to $47.50.

Women, misses and juniors have pick of the season's most stylish and out of the ordinary Wash Dresses in plain plaids, check and stripe Ginghams, plain and fancy Voiles, Pongee, Tussah, and Foulard Silks. Every kind of a Dress for every occasion will be found here. Dresses are all exclusive and the last word in metropolitan fashion.

June the Month for Graduates

Nearby days—all interests of the household will bow in submission to the interesting preparations for the graduate.

Charming Frocks

For the graduate and class night exercises. A most pleasing collection of new models—styles of sweet simplicity—fashioned from fine sheer fabrics—Georgette Crepe, Organdie, Voiles, Batistes and Crepe de Chine. Some braid trimmed, others tucked, lace trimmed or embroidered. Large assortment beginning at $15.00, ranging gradually up to $39.50.

Appropriate gifts for the Graduates

Gloves, Hosiery, Neckwear, Ivory, Lingerie, Pocket Books, Fans.

In fact we have a comprehensive showing of many suitable gifts of interest to the graduate, at prices sufficient to meet the approval of everyone.

Trimmed Hats Sale

At $1.95, $2.95, $3.95 up to $7.50

A Sale into which women can enter with confidence and pleasure.

Because—first of all, all the new Hats in this sale are of Dunn's standard and leaving nothing to be desired in the way of style.

Secondly—because the assortments sparkle with novelties and distinctive models not embraced in the ordinary run of millinery showings.

Third—because the broad scale upon which the sale has been planned provides ample selection.

Half Price Sale

Fine Dress Hats

Following our custom, choice will be offered during this sale of all Pattern Hats at exactly half their original prices.

$35.00 Hats	$17.50
$25.00 Hats	$12.50
$20.00 Hats	$10.00
$15.00 Hats	$7.50

This year's offerings are of exceptional merit and charm, commanding the attention of June Brides and their attendants and every woman interested in Dress Hats of a distinctive character.

Waist Extra

At $3.95, $7.50 and up to $15.00.

No need to say more. All well informed women know that the exclusive styles we show at $3.95 and $7.50 are smarter than those elsewhere at $5.00 and $10.00.

Made of the prettiest Georgette

Crepe, Crepe de Chine, in all the wanted shades. Some of the models are embroidered in contrasting colors.

Women's Hosiery

Fine quality Silk Hosiery in bronze, tan, pearl, suede, castor, sand, medium grey, brown, white and black. $1.25 up to $2.50.

Wash Skirts

Specially Priced at 95c, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50.

White Gabardine and Pique Skirts, cut on smart straight lines, pockets on side or envelope effects. All have straight tailored belts, 95c, $2.50, $3.00, and $5.00.

Boys' Coats, made of Serge, Bedford Cord, nicely trimmed, lined throughout, $3.50 up to $9.5

NEWSY NOTES TELL WHAT'S HAPPENING IN THE MILL TOWN

Women of Red Cross Realize (Goodly Sum From Carnival.)

JOHN FORSYTHE IS INJURED

Kiesertown Man Thrown Over Dash-
Board of Buggy When Horse Rolls and Sustains Compound Fracture of Leg; Is Taken to Hospital; Notes.

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, June 17.—The ladies of Unit No. 32 of the Scottdale Red Cross auxiliary, did very well on Saturday afternoon and evening with their carnival. Tag Day began early in the morning and hardly a person in Scottdale was there who did not wear a tag. In the unit are Mrs. J. M. Zimmers, Mrs. Craver, Mrs. H. B. Hartman, Mrs. Harry Newcomer, Mrs. Mary Loucks, Mrs. Roy Loucks, Mrs. Floyd Darsay, Miss Georgia Humphries, the Misses Wiley, Miss Ruth Jenkins, Miss Edna Krouse, Miss Kate Booher, Miss Bosse Raud, Miss Cecilia Reid, Miss Jessie Brown and Miss Irene Loucks. These ladies were assisted by the high school girls and a number of the girls from the younger set and a number of the younger boys, who worked earnestly all day at tagging.

Injured in Buggy.

On Saturday evening John Forsythe of Kiesertown, went to a farm near Mount Pleasant to deliver a calf. After leaving the calf at the farm, he went with two of the boys out riding in a buggy. On West Main street the horse became frightened and ran off, throwing Forsythe over the dashboard. He suffered a compound fracture of the right leg. He was taken to the Memorial hospital, Mount Pleasant, where he had his leg dressed, and then at his request was taken back to his Kiesertown home.

Shower for Recent Bride.

A number of friends of Mrs. John Kutschgau met at the home of her aunt, Mrs. J. G. Ferguson, on Friday evening and gave a shower for her. Mrs. Kutschgau, who was a recent bride, received a number of nice presents. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Likes Kansas.

Word has been received here from Mercer McIlvain, who is employed at a farm experiment bureau at Hayes, Kansas, that he likes the work and in all probability he will be back in Scottdale early in September.

Juniors Win.

The Everson Juniors of the Public league won a baseball game from the North Side Juniors, breaking a tie and making a series of games that will have to be played by Pine Tree, Liver-son and North Side to find the winner of the "Observer" trophy.

To Take Up Camp Work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Flagle left yesterday for Baltimore, Md., where they will visit friends. Mr. Flagle will visit Camp Meade. He has been called for army Y. M. C. A. work in the Southwestern department but refused this, and will likely accept Camp Meade or Camp Lee work for the summer.

Personal.

Miss Regine Nash left Saturday evening for a two weeks visit to friends at Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kutschgau left yesterday for Niagara Falls, where they will spend a couple of weeks.

Robert Hood of Mount Pleasant, spent Saturday here visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jeanette Purry.

Miss Margaret Kutschgau spent Sunday with Miss Ruth Rowe at Mount Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Cable of Scottdale, have received a card from their son Frank stating that he has arrived safely overseas.

The Premier Event.

Of the entire spring season! Savings far beyond all possibility of duplication! Similar low prices will scarcely be quoted again for years—if ever. See the wonderful bargains in every department offered during June at Bendler's Broadway Ladies' Store, Scottdale, Pa. As you get off the car.—Adv.

Vanderbilt.

VANDERBILT, June 15.—Dr. J. H. Hazlett and mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Hazlett of Vanderbilt, and aunt, Mrs. Belle Wiley of New York City, motored to Waynesburg yesterday, where Mrs. Hazlett and Mrs. Wiley will visit relatives.

Mrs. J. R. McCleary of Eldersville, and Mrs. Neill Robertson of Steubenville, are visiting at the home of their daughter, and sister, respectively, for several days.

L. L. Collins attended the birthday celebration of Commander W. P. Clark, which was held on Friday, June 14, at his home in Connellsville. About 30 guests were present.

Mrs. R. E. Moore of New Geneva, who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore, was a Pittsburgh shopper on Friday.

C. S. Freed and G. M. Shirkler of Dunbar township, were Connellsville business callers.

Little Catherine Pratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pratt, is confined to her home with the measles.

Hunting Bargains? You will find them in our ad. columns.

NO ADVANCE IN PRICE

MOTHERS
Keep the family free from colds by using
WORSTED ROBINS
25¢—50¢—$1.00

OUR BOYS IN FRANCE

The men on the firing line represent the pick of our American youth. One in four of our boys at home was sick, rejected because of physical deficiency. Many times the kidneys were to blame.

If we wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if we want to increase our chances for a long life, Dr. Pierce of the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., says that you should drink plenty of water daily between meals.

Then procure at your nearest drug store Aarons' double strength tablets. This Aaron drives the urine out and keeps the kidneys in the best condition, a due of milk and vegetables, with only little meat once a day, is the most healthy. Drink plenty of pure water, take Aarons' three times a day for a month.

MILLERSBURG, Pa.—"First I had grip, then pneumonia, then kidney and bladder trouble. Kidney excretion was high colored. I got sick on November 15th and laid up till February 18th, when I began to use the Aarons' Tablets I told my doctor, and he said, 'That's all right, keep on with them.' I am now perfectly well and work hard." —W. M. D. STEVENS, Box 391, Railhead and Main Street, Coudersport, Pa.—"I have been suffering for years from dislocated kidneys, backache and headache. I doctorred with several doctors and tried several other medicines, but with no avail. At last began taking Dr. Pierce's Aarons' Tablets and they have cured me of my backache and headache, and I have better health now than I have had for 21 years. I am now able to do my work, go to church, and do a lot of walking. I have a splendid appetite and sleep well and feel good in the morning." —Mrs. CLARA E. BAXON.

Connellsville's Reliable

AARON'S

Housefurnishers Since 1891

Q-U-A-L-I-T-Y

Is the most important essential in Homefurnishings.

When the need for Homefurnishings arises be on the safe side by buying the Aaron kind—the kind that have quality built right into them—the kind that are nationally known—the kind that will give you service and life-long satisfaction.

Cheap, shoddy merchandise of questionable quality has no place on our floors—and it should have no place in your home. Every article we sell must pass our rigid standards of quality—and we back it up fully with our "satisfaction guarantee."

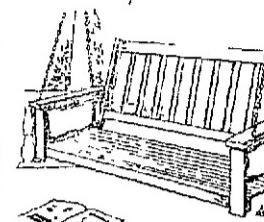

(Made by the Cudahy Packing Co.)

This 40 lb. Genuine Hair 22.50

Mattress, Special at.....

This is a buoyant, supporting mattress a luxuriant, rest-giving one—made from sterilized curled horse hair. Every hair is a live coil spring—that's why this mattress is 40 pounds of comfort—10 lbs. of well-built, everlasting sleep luxury.

See These Values!

This 4 Ft. Solid Oak Swing $3.45

This 1 Ft. Solid Oak Swing $7.50

Special!

This Box Seat Diner $2.25

Substantially built from genuine quarter sawed oak.

This Genuine Quarter

Sawed Oak $29.50

Your choice of golden oak or fumed oak finish.

This Kaltex Rocker $5.00 Upholstered Seat $7.25

These Rockers are exceptional values at the prices quoted. Come in and see them.

This Pullman Bed Davenport $34.50

Frames are solid oak. Upholstered in imitation leather. A big value.

Priced upward from as low as... $26.50

This Solid Oak 6 Ft. Extension Table—A $14.50

Special Value.

This Genuine Quarter

Sawed Oak Buffet $29.50

Your choice of golden oak or fumed oak finish.

This Pullman Bed Davenport $34.50

Frames are solid oak. Upholstered in imitation leather. A big value.

Rugs, Carpets and Linoleums Entire Second Floor.

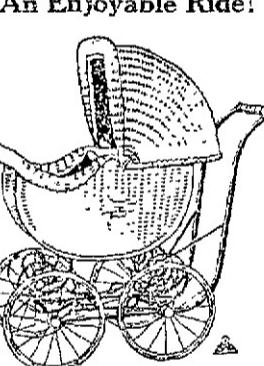

Largest Varieties—Newest Designs—
Better Quality—Lower Prices!

At Aaron's you have the largest collection of Floor Coverings in Southwestern Pennsylvania to choose from—all the newest designs and patterns. And the exclusive, quality Aaron lines cost no more than other stores ask for just the ordinary kinds.

All Floor Coverings Laid FREE.

To Insure Baby An Enjoyable Ride!

Collapsible Carriages at $12.75

Genuine Reed Carriages at $24.75

Come and See Them.

Come in and See That Famous

Leonard Cleanable Refrigerator

Like a Clean China Dish

Here is a Refrigerator that is scientifically constructed—that is made of the best materials only—that is built by specialists to last a life-time. That's why the Leonard Cleanable is a permanent investment.

Ten Walls to Save Your Ice!

That's why the Leonard Cleanable will save its cost in ice alone—conserves and saves your food most economically.

Come in and see the Family Size Leonard that we're offering at $8.50

Just Over the Bridge

Connellsville (West Side)

Willard

SERVICE STATION

Carroll Battery Co.

A Factory Trained Battery Man.

J. N. Trump

WHITE LINE

TRANSFER

MOTOR TRUCK AND WAGON

MOVING AND HOISTING

PIANOS A SPECIALTY.

Office 103 E. Grape Alley, Opposite P. R. R. Depot. Both Phones

NAVY TRICOT SERGE SUIT WITH VERY SIMPLE LININGS.

PATRONIZE HOME MERCHANTS WHO ADVERTISE IN THIS PAPER.

WEST PENN RAPID TRANSFER

WE ARE ALWAYS MOVING

WEST PENN RAPID TRANSFER

The Daily Courier.HENRY P. SNYDER,
Founder and Editor, 1878-1918.THE COURIER COMPANY,
Publishers.K. M. SNYDER,
President.JAS. J. DRISCOLL,
Supt. and Treasurer, Business Manager.JOHN L. GANS,
Managing Editor.WALTER S. STACHELL,
City Editor.MISS LYNN E. KELLY, Sales Editor.

MEMBER OF:

Associated Press.

Audit Bureau of Circulation, Pennsylvania Associated Publishers.

Two cents per copy, 50¢ per month; $2 per year by mail if paid in advance.

Entered as second class matter at the post office, Connellsville, Pa.

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 17, 1918.

The Courier's Service Page.WILLIAM P. SHERMAN,
Hospital Unit, U.S. American Expeditionary Forces, France.RALPH E. SLIGER,
Company H, 31st Infantry, U. S. N. A., American Expeditionary Forces, France.MICHAEL GRENAUDO, BENEDICT RAY,
Battery B, 17th Field Artillery, 23rd Division, U. S. N. A., American Expeditionary Forces, France.LLOYD B. COX,
Company F, 24th Engineers, U. S. A., Fort Myer, Va.JULIUS CROUSE, Company E, 1st Engineers, U.S. American Expeditionary Forces, France.JAMES J. MCARTLAND, Company B, 63rd Engineers, Midway, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind.RUSSELL LENHART, U. S. G. President Grant, U. S. Navy.Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is an organization of news bureaus for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published here.

MARRIAGE DEFERS BUT DOES NOT PREVENT MILITARY SERVICE

To the several rulings that have been made by Provost Marshal General Crowder relating to the exemption or deferral classification of registrants under the selective service law, who have married since May 18, 1917, the date upon which the law was enacted, there has been added a revision of regulations that will operate to change the status of a number of men. In effect the new regulations will oblige the local boards to reclassify all cases involving marriage since the date mentioned, making it mandatory that claims for exemption because the registrant has assumed the marriage relation be disregarded as a ground for deferred classification, except in certain specified instances.

In the case of young men who have become 21 since June 5, 1917, and who have married since January 15, 1918, the date when their registration was authorized by Congress, the new regulations expressly direct that claims for dependence resulting from such marriage be disregarded.

In the case of young men who registered on June 5, 1918, and who had contracted marriage between May 18, 1917, and January 15, 1918, the fact of dependency resulting from such marriage will be disregarded as a ground for deferred classification, unless the dependent is a child of the marriage born or unborn, or prior to June 5, 1918. Like the young man who has become of age since June 5, 1917, and married, he too, will be assigned to Class II.

Similarly if the claimant for deferred classification be of the number of those who registered on June 5, 1917, and who has married since May 18, 1917, his claim will be disregarded unless the dependent is a child of the marriage born or unborn, or prior to June 5, 1918. Like the young man who has become of age since June 5, 1917, and married, he too, will be assigned to Class II.

The new rules also provide that no registrant who was finally classified in Class I on the affirmative finding that his marriage since May 18, 1917, was made with the view of evading service, cannot be transferred to Class II.

It is plain, therefore, that the new rules will make marriage of no avail as a claim for exemption from military service. Those who establish the dependence of a child "born or unborn on or before June 5, 1918," will be given classification in Class II, the effect of which is merely to grant a temporary discharge from draft, effective only until Class I is the jurisdiction of the local board is exhausted.

The selective service law exempts no person from military service on the ground of dependence. It only authorizes the exclusion or discharge from draft of those in a status with respect to persons dependent upon them for support which renders their exclusion or discharge desirable. The classification scheme was designed to defer the induction into the Army of registrants upon whom other persons are mainly dependent for support until persons without actual dependents have been called. Class I, which comprises registrants presently liable to military service in the order determined by the national drawing, having already been exhausted in many districts and nearing exhaustion in others, the registrants in Class II, whether previously assigned to that classification, or transferred to it by the latest regulations affecting married men will be the next to become presently liable to military service."

The Austrians find the Italian front just as unyielding as their beaten enemies and the Allied front in France and Flanders.

Isn't the War Industries Board tempting fate when it seeks to regulate the height and style of women's shoes?

GERMANY SEES HER DOOM IM-PENDING.

The certain collapse of German interests and the eventual breaking down of German influences in America are next to the rapid and formidable development of America's war strength, causing increasing uneasiness and agitation among those Germans in Germany who have a better view of the situation than the war lords, who are drunk with bloodlust. Statesmen and editors who have been able to read the signs and portents have come to realize that Germany is bringing disasters upon herself she cannot avert and never repair. The taking over by the United States government of alien property, the breaking up of the German-American Alliance and other sources of pro-German propaganda, the elimination of the study of German language and literature from our schools and colleges, the restrictions being placed upon the German language press, and the growing repugnance of everything German which the Americans are showing, are some of the factors that are forcing the more open-minded Germans to comprehend the completeness with which the German elements in educational, industrial and commercial America are being crushed and the doom of Germany as a world trade power being sealed. The enlightened German newspapers see inevitable trend of events as shown by the following candid admissions of the Koehnsche Volkszeitung:

The German press is already nearly crushed out of existence in America. The great part of the German schools are closed. The German associations are having to strip themselves of all vestiges of Germanism. It is a complete debacle. He might have won the laurels of a great author. Or been hailed an artist of world-fame. Of any kind of a great man—adding to the world's progress and happiness.

But he didn't—the boy who went away.

He made responsibility his own—made it his partner and his faith.

Have you?

He might have won the laurels of a great author. Or been hailed an artist of world-fame.

Or any kind of a great man—adding to the world's progress and happiness.

But he didn't. The emergency called. He discounted the future—cancelled everything but his duty.

His glory will be in making a place for the greatness of others. Yours, maybe.

He gave all he had. Without waiting, calculation or fear. He did the best he could. Will you?

the world. Have you?

There comes a time when a man finds in his heart a crouching treachery. It got in, somehow. It says: "What's the use worrying? We can't all go. They'll come back."

And it sort of coaxes you to close your eyes and think: "Well, they'll be safe enough. It won't last long. They'll come home covered with glory."

And all of a sudden you lose all sense of personal responsibility and just charge everything up to fate, and let it go at that.

But he didn't—the boy who went away.

He made responsibility his own—made it his partner and his faith.

Have you?

He might have won the laurels of a great author. Or been hailed an artist of world-fame.

Or any kind of a great man—adding to the world's progress and happiness.

But he didn't. The emergency called. He discounted the future—cancelled everything but his duty.

His glory will be in making a place for the greatness of others. Yours, maybe.

He gave all he had. Without waiting, calculation or fear. He did the best he could. Will you?

Seven Arrests Made.

Seven arrests were made by the police over the week end. Only one prisoner faced Mayor Duggan this morning, however, all the others leaving fortresses. The one man got two days street work. Four men arrested at 1 o'clock Sunday morning in South Arch street for shooting crap each left a $5 forfeit, and two others, arrested for being drunk paid $3.50 each.

It is unnecessary to be pessimistic to realize that the consequences of European victories are in a manner to be foreseen.

In the future the Koehnsche Volkszeitung will also show itself pessimistic.

After the Kaiser will no longer be able to enter America. They will no longer be admitted. They will be better advised not to try to go there.

The Hamburg-American and the Nord Deutsche Lloyd lines are on building yards and offices have been sold with a prohibition against reselling to Germany after the war.

The American press speaks of forbidding Germans to buy or lend shipbuilding yards. It will be the end of German maritime commerce.

Besides these maritime forces

German estates, representing millions of dollars in stocks of copper, nickel, cotton, leather and chemical products, have been seized and utilized to fabricate American war material.

If the Kaiser of Mill Run, 65 year old, challenges any man of any age in the county to a running contest with sickles. He backs up his challenge with a forfeit of $100.

Frank Coughenour, Fourth ward councilman, exhibits a campaign badge which is a relic of the presidential campaign of 1810. He found it at Cumbria.

Major A. E. Desaulles of Oliphant furnace disappears. He was at one time superintendent of the Dunbar furnace.

Preparations for the celebration of the Fourth are being rapidly completed. Invitations are sent out to bands, lodges and other societies to take part in exercises here on that day.

Dr. S. W. Wood, now riding a Sunbeam and Bell Columbia, a Columbus, Ohio, New Mexico, straws are being graded and improved.

Harry Dunn is home from Allegheny college at Meadville, where he completed his junior year studies.

The new store room and office of J. R. Basye's Company, Pittsburgh street, is completed.

Repairs to the Baptist church have been thoroughly finished and the audience room restored.

The contract for the erection of the Mount Zion Baptist church in New Haven, 14 lot to J. R. Basye & Co. for $1,750. The ground for the foundation has already been broken. The church will be ready for occupancy in nine weeks.

School board is in another deadlock.

The directors cannot agree over the election of a teacher. Mrs. Hunter receives three votes and J. A. Deveraux gets four when three ballots are taken.

Mrs. Helen Donaldson died at her home at Oliphant Furnace. She was 22 years old.

Mrs. Joseph A. Jordan died of heart disease at her Yaquornet home.

She was 67 years old.

R. W. A. Hunter, Methodist Episcopal pastor at Dunbar, married Miss Lucinda Vanekile of Ursina at the bride's insistence.

J. S. Carroll is elected principal of the Dunbar schools.

The Scottish and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the world—force, if necessary.

The Scotch and Everett Democratic organizations will join J. C. Brownfield and T. H. McDaniel as secretary.

There isn't any doubt about Pennsylvania continuing to be the keystone in the arch of patriotism so long as it remains "the imperial Republican state." Neither is there doubt about what they would enslave the

NEWS OF THE DAY
AT MT. PLEASANT
BRIEFLY RELATED

Five Young Men Given Special Induction Into the Service.

LEWIS GIBBS SERIOUSLY ILL

Young Druggist Believed to Be Near Death From Blood Poison Resulting From Boil in His Nose; Patriotic League Preparing for the Fourth.

Special to The Courier.

MOUNT PLEASANT, June 17.—Local Board No. 6 of Mt. Pleasant sent the following men by special induction during the past week from this district: Isaac Hugus, Latrobe, to the Signal Corps at Fort Leavenworth; John E. Husband, to the refrigerating plant department at Washington, D. C.; Lewis Brown, Frank McClain and Albert Tomankak, to the University of Pittsburg for a three-months course. The last four are Mount Pleasant boys.

Thrown Off Motorcycle.

George Polksky, aged 13 years, while riding a motorcycle along the Mount Pleasant road, was thrown off and injured. He was brought to the Memorial hospital, where it was found that there were no bones broken, but he suffered a severe laceration over the right eye. Polksky was from Pittsburgh.

Blood Poison From Boil.
 Mrs. S. C. Stevenson and Mrs. M. A. King were called to Pittsburg yesterday by the illness of their cousin, Lewis Gibbs, the well known young druggist. Gibbs suffered a boil in his nose during the past week, and the boil is now infected and he is suffering from blood poison. He was in a serious condition yesterday and little hopes were had for his recovery.

Clarence Dullinger Home.
 Clarence Dullinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dullinger of West Main street, employed in the X-Ray department of the Medical school at Washington, D. C., is home on a furlough. Dullinger has served several enlistments in the regular army.

Preparing for Fourth.

Preparations are being made by the Patriotic league for a Fourth of July celebration. At present the league is engaged in refencing the park and re-erecting the band stand and flagpole that blew down during last winter's storm. Something will be doing all day on the fourth. There will be two ball games, some returned soldiers from France will speak as well as other good speakers. There will be music all day and a flag raising.

Erecting Alarm Boxes.

The fire and police alarm boxes are being put over town by R. G. Turns. The box at the corner of Church and Main streets is connected ready to be used.

Daughter Born.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sherrick at the Memorial hospital here. Mr. Sherrick is candidate for representative from this district on the Democrat ticket.

Confluence.

CONFLUENCE, June 17.—Mrs. E. E. Brown is slightly improved from her recent illness.

You will get comfort and style if I examine your eyes and fit your glasses. Dr. A. L. Tucker, Optometrist, 105 South Pittsburg street, Connells-

Mrs. James Swan and three children are visiting friends in Meyersdale.

The community Chautauqua opens next Monday for five days.

The members of the I. O. O. F. order here attended the Methodist Episcopal church in a body last evening where Rev. W. M. Bracken, the pastor, preached a very appropriate sermon.

Rev. C. W. Deal of Bedford preached two sermons in the Christian church here yesterday.

Mrs. C. M. Sanner is visiting in Connellsville at present.

W. H. Charles of Greensburg was here last week shipping a car load of cattle to his home there.

Mrs. Charles Show has returned from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith at Mason town.

Mrs. Charles Russell is visiting friends in Connellsville.

E. W. Debold was recent visitor with friends at Grace, Md.

Owing to the repairs and improvements that are being made in the Lutheran church there was no Sunday school or preaching service held there yesterday.

Mrs. T. J. Reynolds and daughter Margarette, and son Louis have returned from a several weeks' visit with friends in Baltimore and Philadelphia.

E. E. McDonald has resumed his work as B. & O. agent after enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Bird and Perry Bird and Ida Bird attended the funeral of Mrs. Noah Bird at Addison.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lehert and two children have returned to their home in Buffalo, N. Y., after a several days' visit with friends here.

Mrs. Howard Sanner has returned to her home in Pittsburg. She was accompanied by her father, A. R. Humbert, who will visit there for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wagner and two children of Connellsville are spending a few days here with Mrs. Wagner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reiter.

Mrs. Lloyd Mountain and daughter Elvira are visiting friends in Meyersdale.

Mrs. J. E. Ringer has returned from a visit with friends at Terra Alta, W. Va.

Mrs. Stephen Gartlett and daughter Myrtle of Morgantown, W. Va., who were visiting friends here, have gone to Bear Run for a stay of a few days. They formerly lived here.

Frank Tissue of Uniontown, Pa., is visiting friends here at present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Frucht and three children have gone to Dayton, Ohio, where they will make their future home.

Don't neglect your eyes. See Dr. A. L. Tucker, Optometrist, 105 South Pittsburg street, Connellsville.—Adv.

COOPERATION OF OPERATOR, MINER, RAILROADS NEEDED

To Supply Sufficient Coal For Domestic and Industrial Uses.

STATES LABOR ADVISOR

Of the Fuel Administration Who Was Former President of Miners' Union; Men Will Respond to Such Efforts But Cannot Be Driven to Industry

John P. White, formerly president of the United Mine Workers of America, and now labor advisor to the United States Fuel Administration, at the recent meeting of the International Railway Fuel Association, presented the viewpoint of the miner upon the subject of increased production of coal, saying in part:

"The miners sense their duties in this war as keenly and as loyally as any other group of citizens. They are engaged in a most hazardous occupation and are entitled to the sympathetic cooperation of the government and the public, as well. They are a militant body of men that love their rights.

"So the miners who report for duty just as often as opportunity presents itself and who employ themselves diligently while at their work are meeting the war time conditions loyally and patriotically, and the coal operators, the government and the railroads should cooperate with the miners and see that opportunity is given him to work. If this is done it will prevent the repetition of the coal shortage which prevailed last winter.

"The miners early realized that it was necessary to stabilize conditions during the period of the war, and when the Washington wage scale was negotiated by the miners and operators and approved by the government, an advanced step was taken towards the attainment of maximum coal production. At no time in the history of the mining industry has there been such peace and tranquility as now prevails, and it is due to the fact that both operator and miner realize the duty they owe to the government in this crisis.

"The coal miner by loading every available railroad car can aid in increasing the production of coal for transportation to the various markets of the country. If an adequate car supply can be regularly maintained in the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into consideration that we are now engaged in the greatest war in the history of mankind. Team work from the forces herein enumerated, including the government through its Fuel Administration, will make it possible for our men

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into consideration that we are now engaged in the greatest war in the history of mankind. Team work from the forces herein enumerated, including the government through its Fuel Administration, will make it possible for our men

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining, and take into considera-

The coal operator should see that the individual working place is ready for the miner so that he may load his day's output of clean, marketable coal; the railroad should endeavor to see that the cars which are promised are at the mines; and the miner can afford to relax those rules which in normal times he feels justified in maintaining

At the Theatres.THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE UNBELIEVER"—The great Edition war drama, with Raymond McKee and Marguerite Courtot, popular screen stars, in the leading role, is being shown today. All of the heart-stirring, soul-rocking drama of the great world war is embodied in this epic production. The pivotal character of the story is Philip Landicutt, a young man of New York's wealthy leisure class, who is firmly entrenched behind-class pride, race prejudice and disbelief in the God of Christianity. His virtues are passionate pity for the oppressed, a fine sense of chivalry that cannot contemplate a wrong unmoved and the quick self-sacrifice of youth. These redeeming qualities sweep into the chaos of war. In the white heat of stupendous happenings his soul is cleansed, and he emerges with that love of humanity which is the very sense of democracy. Raymond McKee's interpretation of this part places him in the foremost ranks of motion picture actors. Marguerite Courtot, who plays opposite him, is singularly fitted by birth and heritage for the part of Virginia Harborth, a young Belgian girl, who, for the love of her country, risks the most horrible fates. "Authentic military atmosphere is given the picture by the cooperation of the officers and men of the Sixth Battalion, United States Marine Corps at their cantonment at Quantico, Va. The production will also be shown tomorrow, Thursday, June 14, and John Bowers will appear in "The Oldest Law."

AT THE SOISSON.

Upon the request of hundreds of patrons of the Solson Theatre, Mrs. Fred Robbins has arranged for Jack Ross' Pretty Babes company to play in that theatre the first three days of this week. The attendance was larger last week than for any similar period for many months, which was because of the many excellent features of the attraction. These include a girls' quintet of singers and dancers, a decided novelty; two very funny comedians, Joe Fields and Gus Hoff, who are among the best comedians playing Connellsville in recent years, and an unusually clever chorus of pretty girls. In addition two vaudeville acts are featured by Miss Rex and Miss Maitland. The bill for this afternoon and evening will be "The Manager's Troubles," a very funny farce comedy, in which Mr. Fields will be seen in the leading blackface role. He will sing his own original topical war song, "Beans." Miss Rex will sing "If You Love Me," and Miss Grip will sing a new war song, "If He Can Shoot Like He Can Love, Good Night Germany." The Pretty Babes Jazz Trio will be introduced for the first time in up-to-the-minute songs. Tomorrow the offering will be "The New Judge," and on Wednesday "The Uptown Flats."

ARCADE THEATRE.

This week at the Arcade theatre will be a novelty offering in the way of a miniature music tabloid company, "Zarrow's English Daisies." This show is put together different from the usual Zarrow shows. It is said to be the best show Mr. Zarrow has on the road today. Miss Mona Mayo, late of the Razzle Dazzle company, is said to have a beautiful soprano voice, and the gowns she wears are the best. Mr. William Young is now in Connellsville theatregoers, but comes highly recommended as being a light comedian.

All the costumes with this show were specifically designed of the latest creations, and the scenery and lighting effects are the last word in musical comedy. There are a number of vaudeville features with this show including Iona Delaney, Frank Queer, Nan Britton, Thomas Williers. Like all the Zarrow shows this company carries a good chorus of pretty girls that know how to sing and dance. From all reports this show should prove a winner to the Arcade patrons. On the screen will be another chapter of that famous picture, "The Lost Express," featuring the girl that stops at nothing, Helen Holmes. The Arcade theatre management has completed the cooling system in the theatre, and that makes the Arcade the coolest theatre in Connellsville. Get the habit. Go to the Arcade where the show is always good. Why? Because we play only the best attractions.

THE ORPHEUM.

Beginning today the great American feature, "The Whispering Chorus," will be the bill at the Orpheum theatre. This is a special production by Cecil B. DeMille, one of the most famous directors to the motion picture art, and grouping with it is a

CONSIDER ONLY DUTYLABRADOR PHYSICIANS NEVER FLINCH FROM DANGER.

Answering Call at Night Seems Hardship to Doctors in Civilized Countries, but Read These Experiences in the North.

An urgent call in Labrador means not only inconvenience and hardship to the doctor and his sledge drivers, but actual danger. Nevertheless, no one ever flinches from his duty. Dr. G. K. Hutton tells of one such call. On a bitterly cold and stormy night the message came from the missionary at Hebron, 71 miles away: "Come, my people are dying." It was an urgent call and there must be no delay. Quickly the dogs were harnessed to the sledge, the Eskimo drivers were in place; everything was ready.

It was pitchy black when we started. A raw air came moaning from the east; it chilled us through our sealskins and made our cheeks and noses ache. When I tried to warm my stiffening toes by an occasional trot alongside the sledge I kept stumbling over jagged points of ice until one of the men shouted: "Sit still, or we shall be losing you!"

After that I sat still and hoped for morning. For two solid hours the agony went on, and then a faint glimmer of gray began to show in the east; it changed to a dull red, sullen and lurid in the morning haze, and we began to see the wide stretch of white ice beside us, and a black and awful sea ahead of us. The ice in the bay had broken with the storm!

"There is no road," the man said; "the ice is all broken there round the headland. Let us turn homeward."

"I know a track over the headland," said Johannes. "Let me see if we can do it."

He walked along the ice at the foot of the rocks, now standing for a moment, now running a few steps; he came back presently and said: "We can do it."

I think that of all my memories of Labrador, the most vivid is the memory of that race along the fringe of ice at the foot of the cliffs. On the left the wall of rock rose steep; on the right the black water churned and tumbled and ground the floating ice together; beneath us the thick sea was rocked and heaved, and here and there the water came swirling through.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"Sit tight, sit tight!" said the drivers, and there we sat, bowling along over the heavy ice. Sometimes one of the men pushed out a leg to guide the sledge around a bend, or to check its speed. At that place where the grille led us to the headland the ice was broken away from the rock, and was rising and falling with the swell. One moment it came growing up to the level of the land; the next it sank away again. The dogs went scrambling over, glad to get on to something firm; but the drivers held the sledge buck until the ice began to rise, and then with a yell they started the dogs again, and bumped across the crack just as it came up level. A second too soon or too late would have meant smashing the front of the sledge to splinters.

"OUTWITTING THE HUN"

by LIEUTENANT PAT O'BRIEN

The idea of a huge stepladder occurred to me, but I searched hour after hour in vain for ladders or fallen trees, out of which I could construct one. If I could only obtain something which would enable me to reach a point about nine feet in the air it would be a comparatively simple matter to jump from that point over the electric fence.

Then I thought that perhaps I could construct a simple ladder and lean it against one of the posts upon which the electric wires were strung, climb to the top and then leap over, getting over the barbed wire fence in this same way.

This seemed to be the most likely plan and all night long I sat constructing a ladder for this purpose.

I was fortunate enough to find a number of fallen pine trees from ten to twenty feet long. I selected two of them which seemed sufficiently strong and broke off all the branches which I used as rungs, tying them to the poles with grass and strips from my handkerchief and shirt as best I could.

It was not a very workmanlike looking ladder when I finally got through with it. I leaned it agains a tree to test it and it wobbled considerably. It was more like a rope ladder than a wooden one but I strengthened it here and there and decided that it would probably serve the purpose.

I kept the ladder in the woods all day and could hardly wait until dark to make the supreme test. If it proved successful my troubles were over; within a few hours I would be in a neutral country out of all danger. If I failed—I dismissed the idea summarily. There was no use worrying about failure; the thing to do was to succeed.

The few hours that were to pass before night came on seemed endless, but I utilized them to re-erect my ladder, tying the rungs more securely with long grass which I picked in the woods.

At last night came, and with my ladder in hand I made for the barrier. In front of it there was a cleared space of about one hundred yards, which had been prepared to make the work of the guards easier in watching it.

I waited in the neighborhood until I heard the sentry walk the spot where I was in hiding and then I hurried across the clearing, shoved my ladder under the barbed wire and endeavored to follow it. My clothing caught in the wire, but I wrenched myself clear and crawled to the electric barrier.

My plan was to place the ladder against one of the posts, climb up to the top and then jump. There would be a fall of nine or ten feet, and I might possibly sprain an ankle or break my leg, but if that was all that stood between me and freedom I wasn't going to stop to consider it.

I put my ear to the ground to listen for the coming of the sentry. There was not a sound. Daringly but carefully I placed the ladder against the post and started up. Only a few feet separated me from liberty, and my heart beat fast.

I had climbed perhaps three rungs of my ladder when I became aware of an unexpected difficulty.

The ladder was slipping.

Just as I took the next rung, the ladder slipped, came in contact with the live wire, and the current passed through the wet steel and into my body. There was a blue flash, my hold on the ladder relaxed and I fell heavily to the ground unconscious.

Of course, I had not received the full force of the current or I would not now be here. I must have remained unconscious for a few moments, but I came to just in time to hear the German guard coming and the thoughts came to me if I didn't get that ladder corrected at once he would see it even though, fortunately for me, it was an unusually dark night.

I pulled the ladder out of his path and lay down flat on its ground not seven feet away from his feet. He passed so close that I could have pushed the ladder out and tripped him up.

It occurred to me that I could have climbed back under the barbed wire fence and waited for the sentry to return and then rolled him with a blow on the head, as he had no idea, of course, that there was anyone in the vicinity. I wouldn't have hesitated to take life, because my only thought was to get into Holland, but I thought that as long as he didn't bother me perhaps the safest thing to do was not to bother him, but to continue my efforts during his periodic absence.

His beam at this point was apparently fairly long and allowed me more time to work than I had hoped for.

My mishap with the ladder had convinced me that my escape in that way was not feasible. The shock that I had received had unnerved me and I was afraid to risk it again, particularly as I realized that I had fared more fortunately than I could hope to again if I met with a similar mishap. There was no way of making that ladder hold and I gave up the idea of using it.

I was now right in front of this electric barrier and as I studied it I saw another way of getting by. If I couldn't get over it, what was the matter with getting under it?

The bottom wire was only two inches from the ground and, of course, I couldn't touch it, but my plan was to dig underneath it and then crawl through the hole in the ground.

I had only my hands to dig with, but I went at it with will and fortunately the ground was not very hard.

When I had dug about six inches making a distance in all of eight inches from the lowest electric wire, I came to an underground wire. I knew enough about electricity to realize that this wire could not be charged, as it was in contact with the ground, but still there was not room between the live wire and this underground wire for me to crawl through and I either had to go back or dig deep enough under this wire to crawl under it or else pull it up.

This underground wire was about as big around as a lead pencil and there was no chance of breaking it.

The jack-knife I had had at the start of my travels had long since lost and even if I had had something to hammer with, the noise would have made the method impracticable.

I went on digging. When the total distance between the live wire and the bottom of the hole I had dug was thirty inches, I took hold of the ground wire and pulled on it with all my strength.

It wouldn't budge. It was stretched taut across the narrow ditch I had dug—about fourteen inches wide—and all the tugging didn't serve to loosen it.

I was just about to give up in despair when a staple gave way in the nearest post. This enabled me to pull the wire through the ground a little and I renewed my efforts. After a moment or two of pulling as I had never pulled in my life before, a staple on the next post gave way, and my work became easier. I had more leeway now and pulled and pulled again until in all eight staples had given way.

Every time a staple gave way, it sounded in my ears like the report of a gun, although I suppose it didn't really make very much noise. Nevertheless, each time I would pat my ear to the ground to listen for the guard. If I heard him I would stop working and lie perfectly still in the dark till he had gone by.

By pulling on the wire, I was now able to drag it through the ground enough to place it back from the fence and go on digging.

The deeper I went the harder became the work, because by this time my finger nails were broken and I was nervous—afraid every moment that I would touch the charged wire.

I kept at it, however, with my mind constantly on the hole I was digging and the liberty which was almost within my reach.

Finally I figured that I had enough space to crawl through and still leave a couple of inches between my back and the live wire.

It was on the 19th of November, 1917, when I got through the wire I had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Experiences in Holland.

But I was not quite out of the woods.

I now knew that I was in Holland, but just where I had no idea. I walked for about thirty minutes and came to a path leading to the right, and I had proceeded along it but a few hundred yards when I saw in front of me a fence exactly like the one I had crossed.

"This is funny," I said to myself. "I didn't know the Dutch had a fence, too."

I advanced to the fence and examined it closely and judge of my astonishment when I saw beyond it a nine-foot fence apparently holding live wires exactly like the one which had nearly been the death of me!

I had very little time to conjecture what it all meant, for just then I heard a guard coming. He was walking so fast that I was sure it was a Dutch sentry, as the Hun's walk much slower.

I was so bewildered, however, that I decided to take no chances, and as the road was fairly good I wandered down it and away from that mysterious fence. About half a mile down I could see the light of a sentry station and I thought I would go there and tell my story to the sentries realizing that as I was unarmed it was perfectly safe for me to announce myself to the Dutch authorities. I could be interned only if I entered Holland under arms.

As I approached the sentry box I noticed three men in gray uniforms, the regulation Dutch color. I was on the verge of shouting to them when the thought struck me that there was just a chance I might be mistaken, as the German uniforms were the same color, and I had suffered too many privations and too many narrow escapes to lose all at this time by jumping at conclusions.

I had just turned off the road to go back into some bushes when out of the darkness I heard that dread German command:

"Halt! Halt!"

He didn't need to holler twice. I heard and heeded the first time. Then I heard another man come running up, and there was considerable talking, but whether they were Germans or Hollander I was still uncertain. He evidently thought someone was on the other side of the fence.

Finally I heard one of them laugh and saw him with back to the sentry station where the guard was billeted. And there wasn't any question of my hanging mother earth as closely as possible because I realized that even to touch the wire above me with my back meant instant death.

Then I lay down on my stomach and crawled or rather writhed under the wire like a snake, with my feet first, and there wasn't any question of my hanging mother earth as closely as possible because I realized that even to touch the wire above me with my back meant instant death.

Actions as I was to get on the other side. I didn't hurry this operation. I feared that there might be some little detail that I had overlooked and I exercised the greatest possible care in going under, taking nothing for granted.

When I finally got through and straightened up, there were still several feet of Belgium between me and liberty, represented by the six feet which separated the electric barrier from the last barbed wire fence, but before I went another step I lay down on my knees and thanked God for my long series of escapes and especially for this last achievement, which seemed to me to be about all that was necessary to bring me freedom.

Then I crawled under the barbed wire fence and breathed the free air of Holland. I had no clear idea just where I was and I didn't care much. I was out of the power of the Germans and that was enough. I had walked perhaps a hundred yards, when I remembered the lace I had thrown over the barrier, and dangerous as I realized the undertaking to be, I determined to walk back and get it. This necessitated my going back onto Belgian soil again, but it seemed a shame to leave the lace there, and by exerting a little care I figured I could get it easily enough.

When I came to the spot at which I had made my way under the barbed wire, I put my ear to the ground and listened for the sentry. I heard him coming and stepped on the ground till he had passed. The fact that he might observe the hole in the ground or the ladder occurred to me as I lay there, and it seemed like an age before he finally marched out of sight.

Then I went under the barbed wire again, retrieved the lace and, by exerting a little care I figured I could get it easily enough.

It does not take long to describe the events just referred to, but the incidents themselves consumed several hours in all. To dig the hole must have taken me more than two hours and I had to stop frequently to hide while the sentry passed. Many times, indeed, I thought I heard him coming and stopped my work and then discovered that it was only my imagination. I certainly suffered enough that night to last me a lifetime. With a German guard on one side, death from electrocution on the other, and starvation staring me in the face, my plight was anything but a comfortable one.

It was on the 19th of November, 1917, when I got through the wire I

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from the Hun. If I live to be as old as Methusaleh I never expect to live through another seventy-two days so crammed full of incident and hazard and lucky escape.

had made my leap from the train on September 9th. Altogether, therefore, just seventy-two days had elapsed since I escaped from

EVERY PRECAUTION TAKEN TO PROTECT MEN ON TRANSPORTS

Elaborate Safety System Surrounds Troops Every Minute of Voyage.

WORTH IS ESTABLISHED

No Better Testimonial to the Efficiency of the Plan Followed Could Be Given Than the Movement of Nearly a Million Men in Safety to France.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 17.—No greater care and secrecy could attend the shipment of royal jewels than is observed in shipping American troops to France. To safeguard his boys, Uncle Sam takes every possible precaution, from the time they embark until the transport has reached its destination. He leaves no loophole for the machinations of enemy agents. Announcement of General March that 800,000 have been sent across testifies to the efficiency of the system.

Usually, as result of this elaborate protective system, the trip from "An Atlantic Port" to the French or English port, as the case may be, is remarkably uneventful. All elements of danger have been so carefully anticipated that the risk is reduced to the lowest minimum.

Until the troops and civilian passengers have reached the pier they do not know the name of their ship. It is only a number to them. On the regular transports it is difficult for a civilian, unless he is engaged in war work, to secure a passage. Those who manage to do so are subjected to close scrutiny, and their credentials and luggage are thoroughly examined.

Embarkation often begins several days before the transport sails. All good-bys have been said before the troops start for the ship. No relative or friend may accompany them to the pier. This rule applies to the officers as well as to the men.

Once aboard, there they remain, no communication being permitted. This regulation imposes no hardship other than inactivity. Until all troops have been assigned to quarters and organization has been effected, the men are left pretty much to their own devices.

No restriction is placed on writing, and bags are kept open for soldiers mail up to almost the hour of sailing. This privilege gives many a chance to get off neglected letters and post-cards, although these, as a matter of precaution, are not put into the mails until the ship has passed through the submarine zone.

The troops also take advantage of an arrangement devised by the government for the sending of "safe arrival" messages. Telegrams on post-cards advising family and friends that the writer has made the trip in safety may be prepared in advance, and left in charge of the authorities at the port of sailing. As soon as word is received by cable of the ship's arrival on the other side, the telegrams and cards are released to the wires and mails. Not only is much time saved by this plan, but the soldiers are spared the high cost of cabling from Europe.

With the exception of the ship's executives and the officers in military command, no one aboard knows the men fixed for sailing, and this becomes a favorite topic for speculation among the men. But finally the last soldier has come up—the gangplank and the last piece of freight has been stowed away. A busy little tug appears alongside and begins to nose the vessel like a terrier investigating a gopher hole.

Suddenly there is a blast from the ship's whistle, and then are enacted a few details of the familiar scene which before the war was witnessed whenever a transatlantic liner left its pier. The comparison, however, is extremely limited. The call of "All ashore who are going ashore" affects only a few stevedores and perhaps an official or two, who move leisurely off.

What excitement there is is confined to those on the ship. There is none on the pier for the reason that it is now empty and its great doors are closed. Only a blank wall looks there.

On deck the movement, instead of being toward the transport's rails, is away from them. Orders have been given for the troops to go to their quarters, so that when the ship is leaving harbor no uniform may be visible to any prying eyes on shore.

Slowly the big vessel is coaxed by the tug into the stream, and majestically she gets under way. A few civilian passengers, to the envy of officers and men, hang over the rails and watch the city's skyline fade away.

Soon the port is only a blur in a veil of mist. It is safe now for the troops to appear. They rush out on deck, boyishly eager for this sight—strange to many—of the open sea. A glance is cast toward the vague line on the horizon that is home. Then they turn and peer forward into the mystery of the unknown, toward the scene of the great adventure over there.

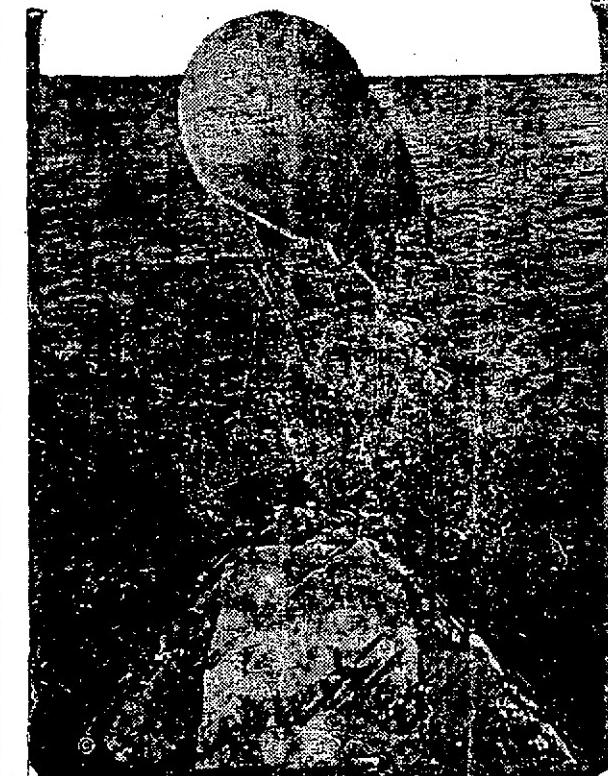

KEEP TAB ON YOUR OUTLAY.

Modern Banking Helps the People—Open a Checking Account.

You can keep tab on your outlay by having a checking account at this bank. Write your own check for each item of expense and keep a record in your check book. The officers of the bank are pleased to furnish check books for customers, and we extend every courtesy and attention whether the account is large or small. The Citizens National Bank, 138 North Pittsburg street. Buy another Savings Certificate—Adv.

Classified Advertisements
same results. Cost only a word.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE GERMAN U-BOATS

UNIFORMS

For Officers in the Service or For Men at Work at Home

The uniforms we supply have the fit, the "hang," the quality that is all important to the man who wears them. We doubt if any other store in the Coke Region has been called upon so often for uniforms of various kinds and has so unfailingly made good. Single or entire staff orders respectfully solicited.

ARMY OFFICERS
HOSPITAL ATTENDANTS
POLICE
CAR MEN
HOME GUARDS
MUSICIANS

The Store That Gives Gold Bond Stamps

WRIGHT-METZLER COMPANY

Vessels of the American navy of all kinds are scouring the sea for the German submarines that are raiding along the Atlantic coast. Some of the larger vessels carry observation balloons like the one here seen ascending from the battleship Utah. From these balloons the U-boats can be seen when submerged.

Baseball in Brief

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results.
No games; all teams in East.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W. L. Pct.
Chicago	33 14 .702
New York	32 16 .567
Boston	23 26 .469
Cincinnati	23 26 .469
Philadelphia	20 26 .435
St. Louis	20 26 .435
Pittsburg	20 27 .426
Brooklyn	19 29 .396

Today's Schedule.

Pittsburg at Philadelphia.
St. Louis at Boston (2).
Chicago at Brooklyn.
Cincinnati at New York.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Yesterday's Results.
Cleveland, 4; Philadelphia, 2.
New York, 5; Detroit, 2.
Chicago, 3; Washington, 0.
St. Louis, 2; Boston, 1.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W. L. Pct.
Boston	33 22 .500
New York	30 22 .577
Cleveland	30 25 .545
Chicago	26 22 .542
St. Louis	25 25 .500
Washington	26 29 .473
Pittsburgh	19 31 .380
Detroit	17 30 .362

Today's Schedule.

Washington at Chicago.
New York at Detroit.
Philadelphia at Cleveland.
Boston at St. Louis.

Jap Marines Landed.

TOKIO, June 17.—Japanese marines were landed on Sunday at Sasebo, a treaty port of China and a center of the sugar industry, 225 miles northeast of Canton. According to an official announcement issued here today the Japanese marines were sent ashore because of the disturbed conditions at the Chinese port.

If You Want Something Advertising for it in our classified column. One cent a word.

Patronize those who advertise.

TONIGHT

AT BEDTIME

If you feel out-of-sorts, run-down or "all in" from over-exertion, or if you are constipated, or your liver is out of order, take

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

In severe cases of sick headache or rheumatism pains, two tablets will be taken. You will get up next morning feeling very much better.

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

act quickly but effectively on the kidneys, liver and spleen. One box of tablets costs $1. and usually lasts six months. Get the genuine, and look for trade mark on each box.

Sold by A. A. Clarke and local agents everywhere.

SOISSON THEATRE

EXTRA! EXTRA!

JACK ROOF'S PRETTY BABIES COMPANY

The Show That Please the Ladies—By Special Request Will Remain for the First 3 Days of This Week.

TODAY—

The Merry Musical Farce

"THE MANAGER'S TROUBLES"

Featuring Joe Fields and Gus Hoff, Dru Rex and Ruth Maitland, Helen Grinn, The Pretty Babies Trio and Girls' Quartet and a Gingery Chorus.

Classified Advertisements
same results. Cost only a word.

News of Latest Novelty Silks

The prettiest silks we have opened up in a long while are the weaves which carry us back to grandmother's days. Plaids, both extreme and conservative; Gingham checks, and novelty Suiting Silks which have already attained a pronounced vogue. These Silks are all priced with moderation.

Other Fashionable Silks Are—

FANCY STRIPED TAFFETA—with taffeta or satin background and colored stripes. Desirable for street and sports wear. Price $1.00 to $2.50 a yard.

COLORED SATIN—in such desirable shades as taupe, plum, brown, navy blue, dark blue, midnight blue, and black. Price $2.00 to $3.00 a yard.

MIDDLING AND SATIN DE Luxe, in fashionable light and dark shades, at $1.05 to $2.50 a yard.

CHIFFON TAFFETA—A beautiful soft weave, here in all the latest shades—prices ranging from $1.50 to $4.50 a yard.

Buy
War
Service
Stamps.

A New Shipment of Red Cross Aprons

At $2.25

Made up in serviceable white material of good quality. Styled with V-neck, two pockets, wide belt, and to open in back. All sizes 30 to 44.

Lace Bed Sets Help to Furnish Bridal Homes

Often It's the Ribbon Sash That Makes Her Frock So Pretty

And are in great demand as wedding gifts.

They are $6.00 to $10.00 and it would be very difficult to buy them now to sell at moderately as this.

Clutch and flat trimmed or embroidered in pink and blue.

$1.00 and $1.25 a yard.

You Always Feel Well Gloved in Kayser's Gloves

At 65¢ a pair; 2-clasp Silk Gloves in white, black or grey.

At $1.25 a pair; 2-clasp Pongee Gloves with white embroidered backs.

At $1.50 a pair; 3-clasp tucked wrist Silk Gloves in white, grey or pongee color.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

TODAY AND TOMORROW—

"The Unbeliever"

AN EDISON SUPER-FEATURE BASED ON THE BOOK "THE THREE THINGS," THE GREATEST STORY THAT THE WAR HAS PRODUCED—BY MARY RAYMOND SHUMAN ANDREW, FEATURING RAYMOND McEE AND MARGUERITE COURTOIS, SHOWING U. S. MARINES IN ACTION.

THE GREATEST PICTURE SINCE "THE BIRTH OF A NATION."

ALSO A KEYSTONE COMEDY IN 2 ACTS.

—WEDNESDAY—

BLUE BIRD PRESENTS FRANKLYN PARTRIDGE IN

"$5,000 REWARD"

ADAPTED FROM THE STORY—"MY ARCADIAN WIFE"—LOVE FORCES CONFESSION. A DRAMA IN 5 ACTS.

ALSO A GOOD COMEDY IN 2 ACTS.

THE THEATRE THAT PLAYS ONLY THE BEST

Come When You Please. Stay As Long As You Like.

Special Attraction All This Week

ZARROW'S ENGLISH DAISIES

The Greatest Musical Comedy Offering of the Season Extra Vaudeville Features.

Mr. William Young

Miss Mona Mayo

Beautiful Singing and Dancing Chorus

The Best is None Too Good for the Arcade.

Prices Always the Same

On the Screen—Helen Holmes in "The Lost Express."

OPHEUM THEATRE

TODAY AND TOMORROW

Kathlyn Williams and Elliott Dexter in Cecil B. DeMille's Production

"THE WHISPERING CHORUS"

Also "TOTO," the Comedian in

"FARE PLEASE"

Coming—Wm. S. Hart in "The Tiger Man."

AUCTION SALE

The Community Jewelry Shop, 100-102 South Pittsburg street wish to announce they will